

ANIMATED CANADIANS!

Canada is world famous for its animation.
Come see what our Canadian animators are up to NOW!

This wonderfully unique selection of new short films by independent Canadian animators will entertain, amaze and inspire even the most bored!

Presented by filmmaker, Alex Rogalski, this selection of new animated shorts illustrates the wide variety of form and content at play in animated cinema today.

Join Alex and Shutter 2 Think for this unique opportunity! Stimulate your senses with a visual feast of contemporary animations, then linger with us after the films for some audio stimulation and "aural pleasures" with local DJ Andrew Bellman!

Paradise

Jesse Rosensweet

This visual story follows John as he goes about his daily routine only to begin to question his very existence and the role that he plays in his automated world.

Jeu

Georges Schwizgebel

In Jeu, the filmmaker sets the viewer down in a landscape whose scenery constantly morphs and mutates.

Yellow Sticky Notes

Jeff Chiba Stearns

Filmmaker Jeff Chiba Stearns decided to visually self-reflect on his filmmaking journey by animating on the same sticky notes that caused him to ignore major world events for the last nine years.

Drox Flux

Theodore Ushev

Theodore Ushev's animated film fluidly layers its imagery in a deconstruction of the intersections between the artist, industrialism and modern political thought.

McLaren's Negatives

Marie-Josée Saint-Pierre

This intimate, animated documentary about Norman McLaren provides a sensitive and enlightening glimpse into the life and creative imagination of the legendary Canadian animator.

Key Lime Pie

Trevor Jimenez

The dark life of a mobster is driven by his obsession for key lime pie in this vivid spin on the film noir genre.

Auto Moto

Neil McInnes, Cathy McInnes

Isolated in an elaborately mechanized workshop, a lonely wooden skeleton suffering from writer's block enlists a factory worker to help him reconnect with his muse.

Boar Attack

Jay White

From the Far North comes this animated tale of a young man who fears the worst while awaiting his father's safe return from a walk in the woods.

Ha' Aki

Iriz Pääbo

Ha' Aki is a lyrical and wonderfully unorthodox interpretation of hockey as played in the mind of a lyrical and wonderfully unorthodox animation artist.

Saskatchewan Part 1

Brian Stockton

Brian Stockton's endearingly eccentric series of films traces his family's history in the province of his birth.

land of living skies/near a landmark and other passed identities

Alex Rogalski

These stories are told from recollection, reconciling that all things change.
